

Judicial Communications Office

15 NOVEMBER 2023

LEGACY INQUEST REVIEWS

Press Release

The Presiding Coroner, Mr Justice Humphreys, will conduct a review of the legacy related inquests identified below on 17 November 2023 at 9:30am.

The review will take place at Kings Bench 1, Royal Courts of Justice, Belfast.

All legal representatives, participants in proceedings and public should attend court in person unless the Presiding Coroner has decided they can attend remotely applying the interests of justice test in that individual case. Requests for remote attendance or access should be made in advance of the hearing on application by email to legacy@courtsni.gov.uk.

INQUEST
1. Elizabeth McDonald & John Gerald McGleenan
2. Daniel Rooney
3. Patrick McVeigh
4. Gerard Casey
5. James Sloan, James McCann, Tony Campbell, Ambrose Hardy, Brendan Maguire and John Loughran ('New Lodge Six')
6. James Elliot
7. Thomas Burns
NEW ATTORNEY GENERAL REFERRALS

Judicial Communications Office

8. Patrick Joseph Kelly
9. Robert David Anderson
10. Sean Anderson, Thomas Armstrong, Thomas Casey, Phelim McNally and Dwayne O'Donnell
11. Ian Joseph Sproule
12. Martha Campbell

NOTES TO EDITORS

1. Information about legacy inquests can be found on the JudiciaryNI website (<https://judiciaryni.uk/legacy-inquests>)
2. At present, and subject to any further guidance issued by the Lady Chief Justice's Office, the media can attend court remotely without having to make an application. However, any member of the media who wishes to attend court remotely should provide their name on the Sightlink dial in screen and abide by any direction of the court.
3. The review will commence at the allocated time at which point the Sightlink will be locked. The media are asked to logon to Sightlink 47 (<https://my.sightlink.net/meet/19667738/>) five minutes ahead of the allocated time.

ENDS